SAFE TRAVELS

Since March 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic has changed the way we live, the way we do business and the way we travel. The situation is ever-changing and it is important to have the latest updates to inform our decisions as we navigate our daily lives and plan our adventures (safely). Visit Saskatchewan.ca/COVID19 for the most up-to-date information on COVID-19 in the province of Saskatchewan.

As you #ExploreSask, remember to respect the places that you visit and the people who live there. Be aware of travel restrictions and follow the health advisories and safety guidelines in place to keep us all safe and Saskatchewan open.

EVENTS IN SASKATCHEWAN

From large spectator sporting events to a local village celebration, Saskatchewan's community and volunteer spirit is legendary, and it is on display at the many events, festivals, concerts and games that are hosted annually in this province.

Throughout the past year, the COVID-19 pandemic (and resulting health guidelines and gathering restrictions put in place for the safety of the people of this province and those who visit) has forced organizers to cancel or postpone some events. Others have been re-envisioned in new virtual formats, as drive-through events or with reduced capacity to ensure proper physical distancing.

For an up-to-date event list, visit TourismSaskatchewan.com/things-to-do/events or contact organizers directly for the latest information.

SAFE TRAVEL TIPS*

- Practice good hygiene
Handwash frequently or use hand sanitizer when appropriate. Avoid touching your mouth, nose or eyes with unwashed hands. Cough and sneeze into tissue or the inside of your elbow.
- Stay open by staying apart
Physical distance by keeping two metres between yourself and others, both indoors and out. When visiting beaches and parks, groups should be at least four metres apart.
- Know before you go
Some tourism businesses and attractions are closed, running at limited capacity or have different operating hours. Plan ahead and confirm that the place you want to visit is open. Know what to expect when you arrive. Respect the new rules and procedures in place to keep employees and customers safe.
- Pack the essentials
Limit your impact on the communities you visit by stocking up on essential items before you leave. Put together a clean safety kit – hand sanitizer, face masks (non-medical masks are mandatory in indoor public spaces and outdoors when physical distancing cannot be maintained), disinfectant wipes, first-aid kit, snacks and water.
- Travel in small groups
Travelling with fewer people makes practicing physical distancing easier to do and helps lower your impact on the places that you visit.
- Support local
Saskatchewan businesses need your support more than ever. Health guidelines are in place for sectors and businesses that are open. By respecting the rules and procedures, we can all enjoy our favourite restaurants, stores and attractions.
- If you are sick – stay home
Monitor your symptoms and use the Government of Saskatchewan's self-assessment tool to determine if you should be tested for COVID-19. It can be found at Saskatchewan.ca/COVID19.

These travel tips and guidelines were relevant at the time of publication and can/will change as the COVID-19 situation evolves in the province of Saskatchewan. Stay up-to-date and informed by visiting Saskatchewan.ca/COVID19.*

Maple Creek: The Modern West

Get the full flavour of southwest Saskatchewan hospitality with a visit to the Maple Creek area. Housed in a red cedar log barn, Grotto Gardens Country Market has a bakery, market, gift shop, Saskatoon berry orchard and petting zoo. However, the family-run agri-tourism business is best known for its popular goat yoga. Stroll through Maple Creek's historic downtown and relive your childhood with a stop at Cowtown Kids Toy & Candy. With a focus on selling high-quality traditional and nostalgic toys, it has the distinction of being the largest independent toy store in Saskatchewan. Year round, the coffee pot is on and the welcome mat rolled out at Historic Reesor Ranch, located just outside of the West Block boundary of Cypress Hills Interprovincial Park. Help with herd checks and cattle roundups at this century-old working guest ranch. At the end of the day, gather around a crackling campfire to swap stories, while enjoying cowboy poetry by the local bard.

Sea of grass

One of Saskatchewan's two national parks, Grasslands National Park is a 570-sq. km expanse of grassy hills and river valleys. Drive the Ecotour Road and view herds of Plains bison as they roam the land, grazing on native grasses. Black-tailed prairie dogs, pronghorns and various species of snakes make their home here. Stay in one of the park's iconic tipis or an oTENTik. At night, the Milky Way illuminates this designated Dark Sky Preserve. Backcountry hikers and campers will have a field day in the East Block. Backpack your way through the gorgeous, hoodoo-strewn landscape of the Valley of 1,000 Devils or take a drive on the 11-km Badlands Parkway. This new paved route has six scenic viewpoints highlighting some of Saskatchewan's most spectacular vistas.

Stay and Play

Glide along the 800 km of shoreline as the wind catches your sail on Lake Diefenbaker. Or spend the day waterskiing, fishing, camping or golfing at one of the three provincial parks (Danielson, Douglas and Saskatchewan Landing) and various regional parks located along the lake. Moor your boat (with or without sails) at Lakeside Marina Service at Elbow and hit some golf balls at Harbor Golf Club & Resort, an 18-hole championship course situated on the bluffs overlooking the lake. You can also enjoy scenic vistas and panoramic views of Lake Diefenbaker while teeing off at Sask Landing Golf Resort and the desert-like, links-style Sage View Golf Course at Palliser Regional Park. This massive lake is one of the premier recreation areas in southern Saskatchewan.

Discover Scotty

Scotty, the world's largest T. rex skeleton and the most complete of its kind in Canada, was found in the hills near the town of Eastend. The T.rex Discovery Centre was built to showcase the rich geological and fossil heritage of southwest Saskatchewan. For the best view of that ancient landscape, drive up to Jones' Peak just outside of the town and gaze out over the valley.

For the birds

Saskatchewan is located on the North American Central Flyway, one of the four major migratory bird routes on the continent. As such, there are enough opportunities for birdwatching that a dedicated birder could spend a summer spotting our feathered friends. The Last Mountain Bird Observatory, situated in North America's oldest nature refuge, is Saskatchewan's only bird monitoring station. The Chaplin Nature Centre, located just off of Trans-Canada Highway 1, is a spot to learn about the 30 species of shorebirds that migrate to Chaplin Lake each summer. The Saskatchewan Burrowing Owl Interpretive Centre in Moose Jaw offers the chance to observe these unique birds up close.

Majestic Moose Mountain

Moose Mountain Provincial Park has an extensive trail network for hiking and mountain biking. Pass through the beautiful stands of aspen, birch, green ash and Manitoba maple that characterize this unique southern Saskatchewan forest. Pull out your clubs and hit some golf balls at one or both of the two championship 18-hole courses in the area – Golf Kenosee or White Bear Lake Golf Course.

On the big screen

For a nostalgic way to spend a summer evening, watch a movie on the big screen at one of the province's drive-in movie theatres. Southern Saskatchewan is home to three locations that are preserving this retro pastime. Opened in 1954, Twilight Drive-In Theatre in Wolseley has been an area attraction for decades. Take in a film outdoors under the prairie night sky at Carlyle's Prairie Dog Drive-In Theatre or catch a show at the recently opened Moonlight Movies Drive-In Theatre in Pilot Butte. In central Saskatchewan, enjoy some buttery popcorn while sitting in the comfort of your own car at Clearwater Drive-In Theatre, near Kyle. Jubilee Drive-in Theatre has been screening blockbusters at Manitou Beach since the 1950s.

Ever-changing canvas

Located north of Trans-Canada Highway 1 near the village of Sceptre, the Great Sand Hills rise five storeys above the prairie landscape. The rolling sand dunes cover more than 1,900 sq. km. Mule deer and sharp-tailed grouse live among the native prairie trees, shrubs and grasses in this unique region. This ecologically fragile environment is located on private land. When visiting, respect and obey all posted signs, close gates, and park in designated areas.

Scenic Qu'Appelle Valley

Grab your camping gear and explore the campgrounds and beaches of southeast Saskatchewan. From Regina, drive east through the Qu'Appelle Valley. Take your pick from six lakes – Pasqua, Echo, Mission, Katepwa, Round and Crooked – and cast your line to catch tonight's supper. Throw on some water skis or strap on a wakeboard and take in the beautiful scenery from behind the boat. Nestled amid white birch and maple trees on the south side of the lake, Echo Valley Provincial Park has hundreds of campsites. Lakeside campsites are available at Crooked Lake Provincial Park.

Get your glamp on

Camp out in style in safari tents or geodesic domes at Glamping Resorts Ltd., located along the north shore of Buffalo Pound Lake, or stay in a tastefully converted metal grain bin or cosy cabin at Bin There Campground and Events Centre near Moose Jaw. For a fully equipped camping experience, Camp-Easy options are available at the following provincial parks across southern Saskatchewan: Buffalo Pound Provincial Park (two tents), Crooked Lake Provincial Park (one tent), Echo Valley Provincial Park (two tents and one yurt), and Saskatchewan Landing Provincial Park (two tents). Amp up (or glamp up) your vacation with a stay in one of these unique accommodations.

Shop local

When it comes to shopping off the beaten path, you'll find charming small town storefronts and warm, welcoming shopkeepers everywhere in southern Saskatchewan. Pop in on your way through or plan a day trip to one of these hidden gem boutiques. In Lebret, The Little Glass Hut is a studio and retail shop that features handcrafted stained glass, stepping stones, pottery, quilting, photography, paintings and jewelry. The Sinking Canoe in Indian Head houses a well-curated collection of antiques and an intriguing selection of collectible items in a quaint red cottage barn. In Val Marie, Prairie Wind & Silver Sage is an ecomuseum, café, bookstore and gift shop not to be missed. Aust's General Store, a classic small town country store, sells a little bit of everything – from hardware to underwear. The 4,000-sq. ft. store in Big Beaver has been in the Aust family since 1959 and is a popular coffee stop for locals and visitors in this tiny hamlet. Becky's Place is a unique Indigenous-owned retail and craft

Choose your (obstacle) course

The kids will be entertained for hours at inflatable waterparks across southern Saskatchewan. The parkour-style floating obstacle courses feature slides, bridges, swings, blobs, teeter-totters, hurdles, ladder runs, and trampolines. Sask Aquatic Adventures has locations at Regina Beach, Danielson Provincial Park, and Buffalo Pound Provincial Park (new in 2021), as well as four (three new) inflatable waterparks across central Saskatchewan. Wild Waves Waterpark is situated at the main beach at Rowan's Ravine Provincial Park. These on-water attractions are for adventure seekers ages five years and up.

Art and Architecture. Art-chitecture? Gravelbourg, a bilingual community in southwest Saskatchewan, is home to Our Lady of the Assumption Co-Cathedral Notre Dame de l'Assomption. Built in 1918-1919, this national historic site features notable paintings by Monsignor Charles Maillard (painted 1921-1931) and stained glass windows from France. At the Shurniak Art Gallery in Assiniboia, sculptures by esteemed Canadian artists Robert Davidson and Joe Fafard dot the landscaped courtyard and grounds. The gallery houses the impressive art collection of the late Bill Shurniak, amassed during a lifetime of world travel.

Ice Age relic

The Big Muddy Badlands in the southwest are sprawling, intricate hills, valleys and caves that once served as a place of refuge for Chief Sitting Bull, and later as a hideout for outlaws such as Sam Kelly. A relic of the Ice Age, Castle Butte rises 60 m above the surrounding landscape. It is a striking formation that served as a landmark for Indigenous people and members of the North West Mounted Police. Tours of this area are available through Coronach Tourism. Access to Castle Butte is only available from June 1 to November 1. Other unique landscapes in southwest Saskatchewan include the Avonlea Dirt Hills and the Massold Clay Canyons at Claybank Brick Plant National Historic Site.

Ride back in history

Climb aboard and ride the rails! Based in Ogema, Southern Prairie Railway will transport you back in time with style, elegance and a bit of old-fashioned charm. As the vintage locomotive and coach travel through rolling landscapes and grassy hills, listen to stories of a bygone era, when railways criss-crossed southern Saskatchewan and people took the train to visit friends and family. Following your tour, explore the pioneer village made up of 31 heritage buildings and more than 150 pieces of vintage farm machinery at the Deep South Pioneer Museum.

The downtown is packed full of heritage buildings, unique shops and excellent restaurants. There is so much to experience in Moose Jaw that you may want to spend the whole weekend. With its geothermal mineral pool and spa, Temple Gardens Hotel & Spa is one of the city's most famous attractions. Grant Hall Hotel offers fine dining and a boutique vintage hotel experience. At the Tunnels of Moose Jaw, immerse yourself into the world of Prohibition-era bootleggers in the Chicago Connection Tour, or experience the life of a Chinese immigrant working at an underground laundry on the Passage to Fortune Tour. Big flavour and live music greet you at The Happy Nun Café in the hamlet of Forget.

WHEN THE SNOW FALLS

Echo Valley Skate the Park

Moose Mountain Provincial Park

As the snow settles in amongst the lush lodgepole pine and white spruce in Cypress Hills Interprovincial Park, pull out your cross-country skis or snowshoes and explore the 17 km of groomed trails in the Centre Block. Winter fun also includes tobogganing, skating, and snowmobiling (only in the designated area in the Centre Block). Open year round, The Resort at Cypress Hills has hotel rooms, townhouses and rustic cabins, as well as onsite dining.

Bordering small lakes and scenic viewpoints, Moose Mountain Provincial Park has an extensive trail system that allows winter enthusiasts to enjoy the beauty of the park. Travel through this unique southern Saskatchewan forest on 120 km of groomed snowmobile trails, 50 km of ski trails groomed for both classic and skate skiing and 10 km of snowshoe trails. Located in the park overlooking Kenosee Lake, Kenosee Inn and Cabins has hotel rooms and cabins available to rent for your snowy getaway.

Throw on your winter jacket, ski pants and helmet and ride the more than 350 km of snowmobile trails in the Qu'Appelle Valley. Strap on your snowboard and clear the frost from your goggles as you take to one of the 12 runs at Mission Ridge Winter Park, located south of Fort Qu'Appelle. The ski hill also has two terrain parks, a tube park, three conveyor lifts and a triple chair lift. Soak up nature and breathe in the crisp winter air as you skate through the trees at Echo Valley Provincial Park. Skate the Park is a unique 2-km skating trail that winds through the Aspen Campground.

Once the lakes and rivers across southern Saskatchewan freeze, communities of ice fishing shacks pop up. In the southeast, Last Mountain Lake and the Qu'Appelle Valley lakes are favourite ice fishing spots. For a unique catch, Boundary Dam near Estevan is the go-to spot for largemouth bass. In fact, it's the only place to go. Due to the nearby power plant, the water is much warmer, which makes it possible for the species to thrive. One access point for Boundary Dam is Woodlawn Regional Park. Lake Diefenbaker, in the southwest, is another prime location, renowned for its trophy-sized rainbow trout, as well as the diversity of species found in the lake. Guided packages and luxury RV ice shack rentals are available at Sandy Shores Resort near Danielson Provincial Park.

EYES TO THE SKY IN THE CYPRESS HILLS

Horseback trail ride

Canoeing on Loch Leven

Hiking The Great Trail

When the glaciers retreated, they missed a spot in the southwestern corner of the province, leaving a forested plateau towering high above the plains below at Cypress Hills Interprovincial Park. The unexpected mountain-like oasis on the border between Saskatchewan and Alberta reaches an elevation of 1,392 m above sea level, marking the province's highest geographical point.

The mix of landscapes – towering hills, lush lodgepole pine and white spruce forests, and fescue prairie and wildflowers – provides breathtaking views. Take a driving tour to some of the park's most scenic spots, including Lookout Point and Bald Butte in the Centre Block. In the West Block, experience a Saskatchewan sunset from the Conglomerate Cliffs.

In this wilderness area of the park, you can go backcountry camping. Pack your tent, supplies and your horse. In addition to two quiet, rustic campgrounds with few amenities, there is an equestrian campground with corrals. On horseback, witness spectacular vistas as you explore a portion of The Great Trail (formerly the Trans Canada Trail) to see the Hidden Conglomerate Cliffs.

The Great Trail transects the park. In the Centre Block, this trail covers over 16 km of rugged countryside and will challenge the seasoned hiker. With an extensive network of trails in this area of the park, visitors can hike the backcountry to see nature untamed or navigate relaxing self-guided trails with interpretive signage. Paved trails provide quick access between the campgrounds and the beach, resort and swimming pool in the core area.

Wake up to the heady aroma of the lodgepole pine forest in one of the park's six front-country campgrounds that range from basic to full-service. After a full day of swimming at the pool or beach and stand-up paddleboarding or canoeing on Loch Leven, swap stories and make s'more-filled memories with your family around a crackling evening campfire.

The brilliance of the night sky will amaze you if conditions are right for stargazing. The park is a designated Dark Sky Preserve and astronomy programs are offered at the observatory by an astronomer-in-residence.

For those feeling adventurous, one of the popular attractions in the park allows you to experience its beauty (and the forest canopy) by zipline. Treosix Adventure Parks also offers an outdoor climbing wall, treetop drop, electric fat bike rentals, slackline course and mini-zips for the little ones.

At Fort Walsh National Historic Site, find out what life was like in a working fort during a time that shaped the history of Western Canada. The fort was a North West Mounted Police (NWMP) post established in 1875 and played a key role in imposing law and order in the West. Staff in period costume relay stories about the lawless days of rotgut whiskey runners and Canada's role in the aftermath of the Battle of the Little Bighorn.

HIDDEN GEMS

It's time for a road trip! You'll find surprising sights and welcoming communities down the highways and back roads of central Saskatchewan. Northwest of the town of Hafford in the Redberry Lake Biosphere Reserve, a boardwalk winds through a landscape of twisting and corkscrewing aspens at the Crooked Bush. A landlocked prairie province is the last place you'd expect to find a lighthouse, but if you take a trip to Cochin, you'll see one with your own eyes. The Cochin Lighthouse was built in 1988 on Pilot Hill overlooking Jackfish and Murray lakes. If you don't know what a bunnock is, take a trip to Macklin and check out the World's Largest Bunnock sculpture that doubles as a tourist information centre. A bunnock is the anklebone of a horse and used in a game of the same name. Each year, the town hosts a world championship tournament that draws more than 1,000 competitors. Remember the childhood thrill of finding a beautiful or unusual stone at the beach or just off a forest path? At the Sesula Mineral and Gem Museum and Rock Shop in Radisson, relive that fascination and discover a trove of gems and minerals. Take a selfie with Canada's biggest bat at Saskatchewan Baseball Hall of Fame in Battleford. With over 4,000 archival materials, the museum displays the province's rich baseball history dating back to 1879.

At Alive Sky Lodge/BINcredible, guests can choose between a room in the main lodge or the luxury suite inside a metal grain bin. Other options include the Schoolee in the Coulee, the Cowboy Bunkhouse or the BOHO Bunkie. Located an hour's drive west of Saskatoon in Rosetown, Alive Sky Lodge offers a quiet country setting close to urban amenities.

Ancient petroglyphs

The Ancient Echoes Interpretive Centre, located near Herschel, is a treasure trove of paleontology, ecology and pre-contact Indigenous civilization. Guided tours take you to Coal Ravine, where you will find a buffalo rubbing stone, buffalo jump, buffalo processing area, and various stone circles. Three petroglyphs with ceremonial markings, available by guided tour only, are believed to have had religious significance and provide a window into Indigenous culture.

Floating on salt, dancing on (h)air

There are hidden gems, and then there is Manitou Beach. The intense mineral concentration of Little Manitou Lake draws people from around the world for the water's reputed healing properties. Manitou Springs Resort & Mineral Spa allows you to try out the waters in a relaxing indoor pool. your heels at Danceland, an old-fashioned dance hall with one of the last horsehair-sprung dance floors in North America.

Railroad adventures

At one time, Saskatchewan had a robust network of regional passenger trains connecting small communities. Today, you can experience the comfort of railroad travel via the Wheatland Express Excursion Train. The tourist train runs on the Wheatland Railway short-line along Highway 2 between the towns of Cudworth and Wakaw. Enjoy dining, entertainment and the pleasure of relaxing and watching the rolling prairie landscape go by. Themed rides include tasting excursions, medieval feasts and maybe even a train heist.

A little culture in the Battlegords

View powerful images of the Northern Plains Cree through the art of renowned Indigenous artist Allen Sapp at the Allen Sapp Gallery/The Gonor Collection in North Battleford. Sapp's real-life depictions of his past have been seen around the world and earned the late artist provincial and national recognition, including the Order of Canada. Along the border

Straddling the boundary of Saskatchewan and Alberta, Lloydminster boasts a mix of homespun hospitality with big city amenities. Cool off on a hot summer day at the Saskatchewan River Basin Water Play Feature at River Landing. At the Saskatoon Forestry Farm Park and Zoo, visit the Kinsmen Bear Exhibit and you may see grizzly bears Mistaya and Koda wrestling, digging or playing in their pond or meet the two playful dingoes Euci and Maple. At the Nutrien Wonderhub, the Cosmic Commotion exhibit is a truly tactile experience. Kids can pop through holes in the climbing structure's web-like surface, or swing from dangling crocheted pods. Visit Nutrien Playland at Kinsmen Park and go for a ride on the ferris wheel for a bird's eye view of the city, or take a whirl on the colourful carousel. At Wilson's Lifestyle Centre/Stoked Centre, rip around on high-speed electric go-karts, fly high on the 61-m zipline, challenge yourself on the suspended obstacle course and let the little ones jump in bouncy castles.

Feel the Rush

Feel the excitement as the Saskatchewan Rush Lacrosse Club takes to the field at SaskTel Centre and welcomes National Lacrosse League (NLL) teams from across North America. Saskatchewan Rush games are fast-paced and energetic, with plenty of music and spectacle. There's nothing like being in a sold-out arena watching an intense game surrounded by passionate fans. The NLL season runs from December to April. Saskatchewan Rush season dependent on COVID-19 health guidelines and gathering restrictions.

Knock one back

At Saskatoon's many breweries and distilleries, you'll find award-winning spirits and ales brewed with locally grown ingredients, as well as an overall level of quality born from passion and commitment to craft. On Broadway Avenue, Prairie Sun Brewery has a reputation for excellent beer made with Saskatchewan-influenced flavours. Shelter Brewing Company labels itself as a "nano brewery," with four core brews and three rotating taps. Before you ask what "LB" stands for, know that the company's founders parlayed a lucky lottery ticket into an award-winning distillery. LB Distillers carries a full line of cocktail-ready spirits, liqueurs and bitters. One of the city's newest distilleries, Stumbletown Distilling boasts the first vodka made with 100 per cent locally grown Saskatchewan purple wheat.

A GATHERING PLACE

Walk back in time through 6,000 years of history of the Northern Plains people at Wanuskewin. Follow the Path of the People, explore the Trail of Discovery or climb to the east prairie along the Trail of the Bison. Follow the Bison Viewing Trail to the lookout point to see the Plains bison herd that was recently reintroduced to its ancestral homeland.
