LEAVE NO TRACE

Saskatchewan is a popular destination for visitors from around the world. Please be considerate of all people who use Saskatchewan's provincial parks and preserve the natural experience by following Leave No Trace principles.

Use Established Campsites

Camp on durable surfaces and use existing trails when available. Keep campsites small and, if possible, at least 70 metres from water. Do not cut down trees and modify the site. Remember that "good campsites are found - not made."

Dispose of Waste Properly - Pack it In, Pack it Out

- Pack out all of your garbage. Before leaving the campsite, inspect the site and pick up any litter or spilled food.
- Use existing outhouses when available; if not, bury human waste in a cathole 15-20 cm deep and at least 200 metres from the water and established campsites. Pack out toilet paper and hygiene products. Wash dirty dishes at least 70 metres from the water and strain dishwater from solids. Pack out with your garbage and scatter remaining grey water. Even biodegradable soap is poisonous to aquatic life.

Be Careful with Fire

Keep fires small and use existing fire pits and burn all wood and coals to ash.

When camping on an island, gather fire wood from the mainland or on larger islands from deep in the bush. Consider using a stove for cooking.

Keep a Clean campsite and safely store food and trash as not to attract wildlife.

Keep your campsite clear of items that may attract.

- Make noise in areas where visibility is limited.
